

ABOUT GREENWORKS

www.greenworks.co.za is an environmental awareness website that provides tips on how each of us can take steps in the green direction to reduce our impact on the Planet.

Unfortunately most people take more from the planet than we give. For the most part it is not done consciously. We continue with our daily lives, routines, chores and experiences, and in doing so consume planetary resources. The challenge is that the rate at which we currently consume is more than the planet can sustain.

Fortunately there is an increase in people's awareness of the challenges facing our planet. There is a global move to making smarter choices to ensure a healthy, sustainable planet that will be around for future generations.

We've created greenworks.co.za to provide tips and suggestions on how all of us as individuals can make a difference to the state of our Planet. We hope that you will take some time to go through the site and find ways that you can commit to in order to make a difference to greening Earth.

The site promotes making conscious choices everyday to reduce our consumption, reuse our resources, recycle what we can and to respect our Earth. It demonstrates that going green works as you can save resources and money.

The site explores ways of decreasing our consumption of electricity, water and other consumables. We address what global warming is, and the impact of waste and litter on our environment. We look at how to manage our waste - including how to reuse and repurpose what we have, how to recycle and how to compost, and how to save on food waste. The site has a carbon calculator, and an environmental calendar to keep you informed of the environmental days that have been mandated to generate environmental awareness.
